Dear Friends and Members of Ebenezer Fellowship,

I am sure by now that we have all adjusted our behaviour to comply with all the precautions recommended by our health authorities and own common sense regarding the global COVID-19. As a church we must conduct ourselves in the same manner with even stricter guidelines, including cancelling future Sunday services and other gatherings until further notice. You will be hearing from Pastor John today on how we will continue our ministries through these trying times.

There are other administrative considerations which will also need to be addressed. As Moderator I would like to address one of these issues. Even as we discontinue Sunday services, our normal monthly expenses will continue. My concern is the strain that this will put on our budget in the absence of our Sunday offerings. My hope is that you would join me in putting aside that which I would normally give on each Sunday, either by sending in your cheques or other options that we may be able to make available.

We will then look forward to the time when we can celebrate the end of this crisis and gather as a church family, have a dinner to give thanks together and can also present our collected offerings to our Lord. We will thank God for his protection, presence through this crisis and remember those who are still hurting.

God's blessing to all and keep well,

Bill Konnert
